• Bodham Churchyard Conservation Area - An Invitation

In early July the long grass and wild flowers in the old part of Bodham Churchyard will be cut short and we would like to invite you to help rake up the mowings. Hopefully we'll be able to organise several short sessions [there's going to be a lot to rake up] in the week starting Sunday 19th July.

More information and confirmation of days and times for raking will be in the July edition of the Bodham Village News.

• A Welcome Sighting in a Bodham Garden

The Turtle Dove is a species of bird which has been struggling. Some initiatives [including one in Bodham] have had some success. It took the editor by surprise to not only see one arrive in my garden , but to feed and drink on three consecutive days. It would be great to find out if anyone else has seen a Turtle Dove in their garden. Please get in touch with the editor.
Details to be found on the back page.
